

ARIZONA JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW & POLICY

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The Arizona Journal of Environmental Law and Policy (AJELP), a prominent law journal in the field of environmental law and policy published at the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law, is now accepting submissions of articles and comments for our spring and summer 2022 editions. Submissions are accepted on a rolling basis.

Our journal's goal is to publish high-quality interdisciplinary scholarship that bridges the gap between science, law, and policy. We are particularly interested in articles that discuss the intersection of environmental, natural resource, energy, and water law and policy with indigenous peoples' rights, indigenous knowledge, and scientific research.

Please send submissions for consideration to articles@ajelp.com or eic@ajelp.com. We do not have a strict word limit but submissions are ideally under 60 pages. Please include a CV and/or resume with your submission.
